Committee Recommends Streets Be Accepted, Used 50 Years

The acceptance of some old town streets may come before town meeting next March, if legal counsel can work out the phraseology of the article to satisfy the statutes.

Twenty-eight streets, all in public use for over 50 years, are recommended for acceptance by a special committee named by the Selectmen to study unaccepted streets. Problems that must be worked out prior to acceptance, however, include providing some sort of lay-out for the streets. If it is held that the streets must be properly laid out, in modern standards, most could not qualify because of narrower widths. It has been reported, however, that many can be adequately described by existing bounds.

The streets listed by the Committee - of which Selectman William Stewart was chairman - are:

Bancroft rd., Bannister rd., Boutwell rd., Brown st., Burnham rd., Cross st., County rd.

Cuba st., Elm st., Gardner st., Gleason st., Gray rd., Harold Parker rd., Hidden rd.

Lincoln st., North st., Pleasant st., Porter rd., Prospect rd., Rattlesnake Hill rd., Rocky Hill rd., Spring Grove rd., Stinson rd., Sunset Rock rd.

Torr st., Upland rd., Woodland rd. and Vine st.

The Committee, in its recommendations, also recommended that all private ways be marked, and that town meeting take the proper action to abandon several streets that have, in effect, already been abandoned by non-use. However, the statutes require that official action be taken by a town meeting to make this a binding decision.

Looking at the brief histories of some streets, as outlined by the Committee, makes interesting reading. Excerpts from the report indicate:

That Bancroft rd. was named Reservoir st. in 1905, and changed on petition of George F. Cheever in 1910. It is the part of Gardner ave. between Main st. and Holt rd. Burnham rd. has never been accepted. It once was called Alms st. and is mentioned as far back in town records as 1885. In 1957, the Selectmen voted to accept it, but no action followed at town meeting

STORM MOMENTO - This big tree crashed down through the wires at the height of last Sunday's storm, leaving the Elm st. area without electricity. Several trees and branches came down during the storm, leaving some sections of town without power or telephones. (Cole)

Capt. Galley To Preach Here

Captain Howard E. Galley, Church Army of the Episcopal Church, will be the guest preacher this Sunday morning at the 10 o'clock service at Christ Church.

Captain Galley is the lay evangelist at the Crow Creek and Lower Brule Mission at Fort Thompson, South Dakota. The Captain will be accompanied by Elton Jeunesse, a lay reader at the same Mission station.

Captain Galley is an adopted brother of Elton Jeunesse, a full-blooded Indian. Mr. Jeunesse's brother, who was a consecrated worker in the Mission and who was devoted to Captain Galley,

Hart Elected Acting Head Of Junior High School

The School Committee has chosen William E. Hart of High st. as acting principal of the Junior High School.

The action became necessary on receipt of Peter A. Soderbergh's resignation from the post.

The Committee met in special session, and acted on the recommendation of the superintendent in making the appointment.

Mr. Hart was contacted by telephone during the meeting and asked whether he would accept the position. He agreed, after discussing whether this could be in violation of the Code of Ethics, which states that a teacher should not seek a position that is involved in a controversy. However, Supt. Edward I. Erickson told Mr. Hart that he was being asked to accept the

Must I Join CO-OP To Get CASH Refunds?

We are sometimes asked: "Do I have to join the CO-OP to be eligible for CASH refunds on my purchases?"

There are two ways to become eligible for CASH refunds on all CO-OP purchases.

1. One way is the direct route. Most consumers who understand the cooperative method are proud to belong to a locally owned and locally controlled "do-it-yourself" business with deep roots in Andover. This is an organization of over 2500 canny members; 2500 citizens can't be wrong.

People who like direct action buy one or more shares of CO-OP stock outright at $5 per share. The limit is four. This makes them full-voting members of a unique local enterprise and eligible for CASH refunds on purchases indefinitely. Simple, isn't it? Painless, too.

2. The second way is to save your purchase slips and so accumulate credits toward the cost of a share. No cash outlay here. Your first share entitles you to full membership privileges including CASH refunds.

Among the intangible benefits of CO-OP membership is the fact that a great many of the nicest people in town belong to and shop at the CO-OP.

Take either route. You start accumulating CASH refunds as soon as you start shopping CO-OP.

To Gladys Rollins, a niece, of Ashland, N.H., $1,000.

The executors of the will were directed to deposit $2,000 in a savings bank, in trust for Mr. Hall's grandchildren, the principal and interest to be paid to them when they reach 21.

The will directed that in the event of the death of any of the grandchildren before 21, their bequest is to be part of the residue of the estate.

COOL BUT DETERMINED - These youngsters were lined up for their first dive at Pomp's Pond last Monday. Having just taken instruction in the water, the group was given a chance to learn how to dive. YWCA Program Begins Sept. 28

The Y.W.C.A. Andover Committee, whose chairman is Mrs. Alexander M. Wilson and Mrs. Rowena Thompson, director of the program, announce the fall program which will start Thursday, Sept. 28, at the Andover Youth Center.

An early opening date is necessary because of the Thursday holidays in the fall. Opening on the first day will be a four-week class in dried arrangements, under the supervision of Mrs. Edith St. Jean of Andover. Some members have already learned how to prepare for such a class, others are urged to pick up dried weeds and pods during the early fall.

Also starting on that day are eight-week courses in painting and sewing. Painting with water colors will be taught by Mrs. Ruth Hatton of Andover and sewing for beginners or those more advanced will be under the direction of Mrs. Louise Mullen of the Y.W.C.A. teaching staff.

Beginning Nov. 2, Mrs. Helen Wilkinson will conduct a four-session course in the making of cone wreaths, and all women interested in such a project should collect cones, pods, or any suitable specimen of nature all summer and into the early fall.

The physical education program will offer badminton instruction for beginners, followed by an hour of recreational badminton for members. The final class will be pre-ski conditioning exercises directed by Mrs. Dorothy Christopher.

Coffee will be served at 11 by members of the committee and it is hoped that discussions will arise on many timely subjects of interest to all. A playroom for pre-school children of mothers participating in the program will be open from 9 to 12:30.

The Y.W.C.A. Andover committee includes Mrs. Roscoe Duke, Mrs. William Emmons, Mrs. Robert Hatton, Mrs. Ralph Hill, Mrs. Charles Howe, Mrs. Gordon Lauderdale, Mrs. Allan S. May and Mrs. Charles McCullom.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Little League

With the closing of the Little League season here, it is perhaps worthwhile to take note of criticisms distributed across the country during the past few months.

Basically, critics of Little League think that the game has turned into an adult's game, with the children as pawns. Most agree that, left to themselves, with the minimum amount of adult help, Little Leaguers would learn more about baseball and sportsmanship.

We know that adult support is necessary, financially and in the managing and coaching. Hundreds of adults sacrifice thousands of hours of time to help the boys — and enough good can not be said about them.

But we should all realize that lessons learned in Little League must all be good lessons; examples set for the boys must be good examples. It's important, for example, to set a good example for the boys in winning or losing — how to be happy about winning without gloating; how to dislike losing without crying or anger.

We have always liked Little League and the goals it strives to attain; we see no reason not to continue liking and supporting it. We do believe that officials of Little League everywhere need to constantly examine their efforts, to be certain that the League is being run exclusively for the benefit of the boys, and not to satisfy the adults.

Bonding Troubles

From time to time the Selectmen, in considering gravel pits and the appropriate bonds to be provided by the operators, have mentioned the extreme difficulties surrounding "calling" the bond.

Apparently there is so much legal red tape to be slashed that it is almost a hopeless effort. Yet, if it is practically impossible to call a bond — to get the bonding company to provide the actual cash to fix up a pit — what good are the bonds?

It stands to reason that a pit operator will agree to provide bonds in almost any amount if he knows, and the town knows, that it is all but impossible to get hold of the money in case the restrictions placed on the pit are not followed.

For that reason, the Selectmen have begun requiring the operators to put up some part of the "guarantee" in cash, or some other equally negotiable security. This has been done on the grounds that, if an operator actually has cash tied up in the pit, he will be more interested in meeting the town's requirements.

We can't help but wonder why the bonds are so hard to collect, or if there is some way to assure collection if necessary, before granting the permit. The town should not be left partially protected, under any conditions. And this may be what is happening now. For if the cash is only a portion of the total amount believed necessary to fix up the pit, and the remainder is in the form of a bond that probably can't be collected, then the town is going to wind up with only part of the funds necessary to do the job.

It has been suggested that gravel pit operators, prior to receiving their permits, be asked to sign a document indicating that there will be no defense against calling the bond; stating that this can be done at the discretion of the Selectmen. Perhaps some such statement, that becomes part of the over-all agreement, would make it easier to get the bond money if such a step becomes necessary. It's difficult to believe that there isn't some way to make collection of the bond simple, when the town feels that it must step in to fix up an area left in poor condition by the pit operator.

Down the Years with The Townsman

Miss Jean E. Dundas took part in the piano recital given by the pupils of Edwin G. Booth in Lawrence Monday evening.

Among this year's graduates of Tufts College is Edward M. Towne of Andover.

Herbert Carter of West Andover is taking the Harvard entrance exams.

Editorial comment: "The close of the school year at Punchard draws attention to the work performed by Principal Hamblin in his first full year as head of that Institution. We can not recall a time for some years when there has been the quiet, persistent and apparently successful progress of the school, as during the past 12 months."

A large class of 22 boys and girls graduated from Punchard High last night. The greater part of the commencement honors have fallen to two young men, Lester N. Towne and Herbert C. Carter. 25 Years Ago — July, 1936

Ballardvale celebrated the Fourth this year, minus its traditional bonfire. The renovations at the playground made it impossible. Instead, Andover st. was blocked off from Church to Center sts. for a block party. There was a horribles parade early in the evening, followed by a ball game.

Playgrounds attracted 650 children the first day — about 300 more than are normally present. This was the first time that more than one playground has been available — now there are three.

An alleged attempt to set fire to the North District School early Wednesday morning is under investigation. A neighbor, spotting a man running from the building and seeing flames, used a fire extinguisher to good advantage. Police and fire officials say gasoline had been sloshed on cellar window sash, and had also been thrown into a hallway.

Dirk Van der Stucken of the Phillips Academy faculty is spending the summer in Germany, France, Belgium and Italy. He made the trip to Europe recently aboard the Hindenburg.

A parking controversy is raging — the Selectmen adopted parking rules for the Main st. about three years ago and had them printed. Nothing much has been done about them since, until a reserve officer started tagging cars right and left one day last week. The complaints have been thunderous. A Townsman editorial comments that the parking regulations are "as unenforceable as the so-called blue laws" and should be rescinded.

Samuel F. Rockwell of North Andover has been elected chairman of the newly-appointed draft board, no. 62. Secretary is Joseph A. Horan of Avon st. The Board, in existence only a few days, is currently preparing to send its first draftee.

Andover whispered through a ghost-like celebration of the Fourth, to the pop-pop of a few cap pistols. Many old timers felt that the town should have presented some sort of civic celebration.

LOVEJOY RD. DETOUR - Construction continued Monday on the sewer installation along Lovejoy rd., which has caused traffic to be detoured. Here, workmen back-fill the 13-foot trench to a depth of three feet or so, before the remaining fill is pushed into the excavation by machine. Hand-filling the trench makes it possible to keep stones from falling onto the pipe and cracking it. (Staff Photo)

APPOINTED TO JR. HIGH POST
position, and that he had not applied for it.

Mr. Hart also wondered whether the position could not be classified as "assistant principal", but involving the same as the acting principal will perform.

The post will carry a salary of $7,500.

Mr. Erickson described Mr. Hart as a man who knows the school, its personnel and its problems. He has been serving as guidance director at the school. He also told the Committee that the appointment would be most acceptable to the faculty, instead of taking someone from another school.

It was pointed out that Mr. Hart, and any other person interested, can apply for the principal's post if and when the current controversy is cleared up.

Mr. Hart attended Villanova University and received his degree from Merrimack College. He received his Master's Degree from Boston Teachers College.

He served for three years in the U.S. Army and attained the rank of second lieutenant. He received a commendation for duty overseas during his active duty.

Elected to the Andover school system in 1956, he has been engaged in guidance work at the Junior High, as well as teaching.

Contract Awarded To Raytheon Here

The local Raytheon plant has received a $3,607,834 contract to continue engineering liaison on the NATO Hawk missile program, from the Boston Ordnance District of the U.S. Army.

Congressman Brad Morse announced the award. Raytheon provides engineering and technical aid, certain patents and know-how to Belgium, France, Italy, Netherlands and West Germany. These nations are pooling funds, industrial resources and manpower in producing the complete Hawk air defense system for mutual use.

STREET ACCEPTANCE IS RECOMMENDED

to ratify this decision.

Cross st., described in a 1903 report as running from "River rd. near John Whitten's past the late Stephen Lovejoy's to High Plain rd.", may be partly abandoned. The Committee recommends abandoning the section from Lovejoy's - now Dubrule's - to High Plain rd., as, in effect, it has been in practice.

Cuba st. dates back at least to 1856, and was described then as running "from Village st. opposite the house of the heirs of Abraham Marland by the school house to Mineral st." Village st. then was the present Shawsheen rd., and Mineral st. is our modern Red Spring rd. Elm st. appears nowhere on the records of street acceptances. It was widened and straightened in 1825, according to old county records, and was named a county rd. after the county commissioners were petitioned to take this action. A portion was also widened and straightened in 1915, and the county commissioners also accepted the street as relocated and widened.

Gardner st. is described in the 1903 report as being from "Sunset Rock rd. past Mrs. A. M. Smart's crossing Main st. crossing the Albert Bancroft estate to Holt rd." The section between Main st. and Holt rd. became Bancroft rd. in 1910.

Gleason st., listed in reports back to 1903, was given endorsement by the Selectmen in 1957, but no town meeting action followed. Harold Parker rd. was Sawmill rd. in 1903 and was described as running from "Gould rd. past Henry Gray's sawmill, past John F. Morse's to Jenkins rd."

Hidden rd. appears to be part of the former South st., a very old town road. Present Hidden rd. appears on a map of 1906.

Lincoln st. was named by town meeting in 1896, but apparently never was accepted.

Pleasant st. appears on 1830 maps, and is described as running from E. W. Boutwell's to the Bailey Schoolhouse. Miss Bessie Goldsmith, a member of the Committee, taught in that school.

Porter rd., in 1903, was called Topland rd. and was described as "from Main st. past Professor Forbes", past Edward Brook's to the fork in the road near Isaac Goldsmith's place".

Rocky Hill rd. - the Committee recommends that the improved portion, extending to the easterly edge of the Northey and Johnson property, be indicated a public street. Beyond that point, to the By-Pass, should be abandoned.

Sunset Rock rd. originally, or at least in 1903, ran from Topland rd. (Porter rd.) near H.B. Lewis' past Fred Shattuck's, past Stephen E. Abbott's to Rattlesnake Hill rd. The present Hidden rd., from Porter to Sunset Rock rd., apparently was part of the original Sunset Rock rd. The unimproved section of Sunset Rock rd. should be abandoned, according to the report. Torr st., named for George H. Torr, a director of the Andover National Bank from 1892 to 1900, was accepted as part of Phillips st. in 1863.

Upland rd. was listed in 1903 as running from "Chestnut st. past Mrs. Margaret E. Abbott's, to Summer st." The town voted to pay $85 to defray the expense of relocating the street at its junction with Summer st., back in 1908.

Woodland rd. was originally Missionary ln., and can be located on maps of 1852.

Members of the Committee, in addition to Mr. Stewart and Miss Goldsmith, are Virginia H. Hammond, Irving O. Piper, Stanley Chlebowsky and Miriam Putnam.

DEAN'S LIST

Among the undergraduates at Lowell Technological Institute named to the dean's list for scholastic excellence in the second semester are two Andover students, Miss Giedre Malenas, 24 Elm st. and Thomas J. Lynch, 4 Prospect rd., both members of the class of 1962.

Dear friends,

A lady told us recently that she had never fully realized the meaning of flowers at a funeral until she had experienced the loss of a loved one. The floral cards, she said, are still her treasured possession - a remembrance of those who expressed sympathy in this beautiful way.

Floral expressions add beauty and comfort that cannot be measured.

Respectfully,

Donald E. Lundgren
